Carrots.

Carrots thrive best in warm, light soil, enriched with well rotted manure. Sow as early in the spring as the ground can be prepared, in drills 15 inches apart; cover the seeds about one-half inch deep, and thin to from 3 to 5 inches in the row. In field culture, when grown for horses or cattle, the rows should be two feet apart, so that the crop can be worked with horse and cultivator. The carrot seed being very slow to germinate, every precaution should be taken.

Pkt 3c, oz 6c, ¼lb 15c, ½lb 28c, lb 50c.

Aineer's Intermediate. A most excellent variety for either field or garden culture; large symmetrical roots of a deep orange red; in size between the Half Long and Long Orange varieties, and also so uniform in shape that they are exact duplicates of each other.
